

Opinion essay:

I. Partly Agree/ Disagree

Introduction:

Sentence 1: Suggested structures

1. Many people argue that
2. It is true that ...
3. It is sometimes argued that ...

Sentence 2: Suggested structures

1. While there are some benefits to..., I maintain/ am of the opinion that ...
2. Many people believe that .., whereas I believe/ am of the opinion that ...

Example:

- a. Many people argue that children should enjoy a range of outdoor games. While there are some benefits for children to play these games, I maintain that we should not support that idea.
- b. It is true that many people encourage their offspring to enjoy a range of outdoor games. While there might be some reasons to support that idea, I believe children should rather spend time doing something else.

Body 1:

Topic sentence: Suggested structures

1. On the one hand, the option to ... is attractive for several reasons.
2. On the one hand, the idea of ... is beneficial to some extent.
3. The argument that ... is reasonable to some extent.

Point 1 introduction:

Firstly,

Point 2 introduction:

Secondly, ...

Example:

- a. On the one hand, the option to integrate outdoor activities into a child's life is attractive for several reasons. Firstly, ... Secondly, ...

b. On the one hand, the argument that children should be motivated to engage in outdoor activities is reasonable to some extent. Firstly, ... Secondly, ...

Body 2:

Topic sentence: Suggested structures

1. Nevertheless, I believe that
2. On the other hand, there are a variety of reasons why I believe ...
3. Despite the above mentioned ideas, I believe that ...

Point 1 introduction

The main one is ...

The first reason relates to ...

Point 2 introduction

Furthermore, ...

The second reason relates to ...

Example:

- a. Nevertheless, I believe that indoors activities appear to be a better option. The first reason is that ... Furthermore, ...
- b. On the other hand, there are a variety of reasons why ... The first reason relates to ... The second one is that ...

Conclusion: Suggested structures

1. In conclusion, while some maintain that ..., I believe it is better to ... It is predicted that...
2. In conclusion, it seems evident that both ... and ... have its own unique advantages, but I maintain that ... Therefore, it is advisable that...

Example:

- a. In conclusion, while some maintain that playing outdoors helps children to enhance their physical strength, I believe it is better not to play outdoor games because of the risk of injury. Therefore, parents should consider suitable indoor activities such as board games for their children.
- b. In conclusion, it seems evident that both sides of the idea have its own unique advantages, but I maintain that outdoor recreation is an ideal option for children. In the future, it is predicted that more parents will understand the importance of outdoor games and ask their children to participate in.

II. Completely Agree/ Disagree

Introduction:

Sentence 1: Suggested structures

1. Many people argue that
2. It is true that many people prefer ...
3. It is sometimes argued that ...